

Collins Writing

AT WESTMORELAND INTERMEDIATE UNIT

Collins Writing is a unified teaching and management system designed to increase the amount of writing and thinking happening in classrooms while streamlining teacher workload.

This is our foundation session and it shows teachers in any subject area how to use the Five Types of Writing to increase understanding and retention of course content while simultaneously increasing student involvement and motivation. Perhaps most importantly, this session will provide teachers with strategies to efficiently and fairly evaluate student writing in a manner that not only improves student skills, but increases student confidence.

We are offering this session in three grade-banded groupings to support networking and collaboration across similar grades.

See this flyer for more information!

K-2 WORKSHOP

October 6, 2025

3-5 WORKSHOP

October 9, 2025

6-12 WORKSHOP

October 13, 2025

Westmoreland Intermediate
Unit Districts Cost:
$150 per person

Outside District Cost:
$200 per person

Fee includes lunch, laminated resource materials, and instruction from a certified
Collins Writing Trainer
(Dr. Lauren Cunningham)

*Must have 25 people registered per session to run